Answer: 1

148. Is a bus driver permitted to enter a reversible traffic lane immediately after making a turn if traffic in that lane is permitted by the traffic signal at that moment?

1. Permitted, but only after making a left turn.
2. Not permitted.
3. Permitted only for public transit vehicles.

Answer: 2

149. How must a bus driver act when making a turn or U-turn at or outside an intersection if the maneuver cannot be performed from the corresponding outermost lane because of the bus's large dimensions?

1. Activate the hazard warning lights and, taking advantage of the bus's size, perform the maneuver first.
2. Activate the hazard warning lights, yield to vehicles approaching from the opposite direction, and then perform the maneuver.
3. Activate the hazard warning lights and yield to vehicles approaching from both the same and opposite directions.

Answer: 3

150. How must a bus driver act if there is an acceleration lane?

1. Stop at the beginning of the acceleration lane, wait until the road is clear, and enter the adjacent lane.
2. Proceed along the acceleration lane and change into the adjacent lane, yielding to vehicles traveling on that road.

Answer: 2

151. Is a bus permitted to reverse on a one-way road?

1. Permitted if it is safe and does not interfere with other road users.
2. Prohibited.
3. Permitted for fixed-route buses.

Answer: 2

152. What is a deceleration lane intended for?

1. To allow a driver intending to turn to change into that lane in time and reduce speed only within it.
2. For slow-moving vehicles that impede the main traffic flow.
3. To connect a motorway with an ordinary road.
4. For bus parking.

Answer: 1

153. Where is making a U-turn prohibited for vehicles, including buses?

1. At any uncontrolled intersection.
2. On one-way roads.
3. At any intersection.

Answer: 2

154. A bus is prohibited from making a U-turn:

1. At locations where visibility in at least one direction is less than 100 meters.
2. At intersections.
3. In both cases.

Answer: 1

155. A bus is prohibited from making a U-turn:

1. At railroad crossings.
2. Within populated areas if visibility is 150 meters.
3. In both cases.

Answer: 1

156. A bus is prohibited from reversing:

1. When exiting an adjacent area onto a road.
2. At intersections.
3. At pedestrian crossings.
4. In all of the listed cases.

Answer: 4

157. A bus is prohibited from reversing:

1. On a steep uphill section of road.
2. In tunnels.
3. In both cases.

Answer: 2

158. A bus is prohibited from making a U-turn:

Answer: 1

161. Is a bus driver permitted to brake suddenly?

1. Permitted if the bus is equipped with modern anti-lock braking (ABS) and other braking-assistance systems.
2. Permitted in any situation if the driver has activated the hazard warning lights in advance.
3. Permitted only when necessary to prevent a road traffic crash.
4. Not permitted.

Answer: 3

162. What must a bus driver do if congestion has formed beyond a pedestrian crossing and would force the bus to stop on the crossing?

1. The driver is prohibited from entering the pedestrian crossing and must stop before it.
2. The driver may stop on the crossing if the traffic signal is still permissive, while yielding to all pedestrians crossing it.
3. In both cases.

Answer: 1

163. Is a bus driver permitted to enter a pedestrian crossing if congestion beyond it would force the bus to stop on the crossing?

1. Permitted if the bus is a fixed-route bus approaching a stop.
2. Prohibited; the driver must stop before the pedestrian crossing.
3. Permitted if there are no pedestrians.

Answer: 2

164. How must a bus driver act at a signal-controlled pedestrian crossing after the traffic signal changes to a permissive signal?

1. Begin moving immediately because pedestrians are prohibited from entering the crossing when the signal is permissive for vehicles.
2. Allow pedestrians to finish crossing the roadway in their chosen direction and only then continue driving.

Answer: 2

165. How must a bus driver act at a signal-controlled pedestrian crossing after the traffic signal changes to a permissive signal?

1. Begin moving while sounding the horn so that pedestrians speed up or turn back.
2. Allow pedestrians to finish crossing the roadway in their chosen direction and only then continue driving.

Answer: 2

166. How must a bus driver act when approaching an uncontrolled pedestrian crossing?

1. Yield to pedestrians who are in the bus's traffic lane.
2. Must not interfere with pedestrians crossing the roadway.

Answer: 2

167. If a vehicle has slowed down or stopped before an uncontrolled pedestrian crossing, the driver of a bus proceeding in the adjacent lane may continue:

1. If there are no pedestrians in the bus's lane.

1. Straight ahead and to the right.
2. Straight ahead only.
3. In all directions.

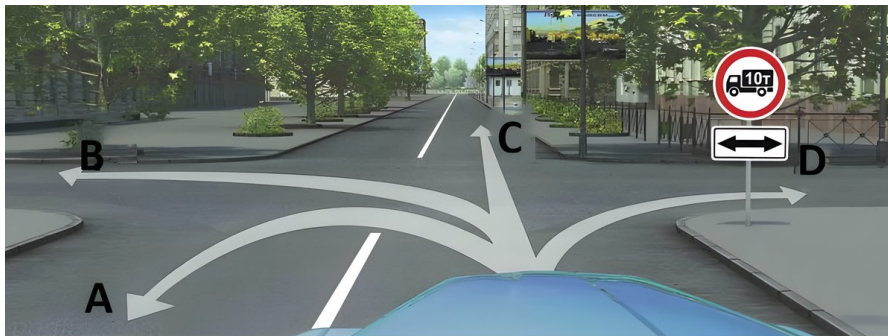

Answer: 2

174. In which direction may a tram proceed if the traffic controller's right arm is extended forward and the tram approaches from the controller's left side?

1. To the left only.
2. In all directions.
3. Straight ahead and to the left.

Answer: 1

175. In which directions may a bus with a maximum authorized mass of 12 metric tons proceed?

1. Only C.
2. A and C.
3. All directions.

Answer: 3

176. Considering the vehicle's large dimensions, the driver is permitted to proceed:

1. Along both paths.
2. Only along path A.
3. Only along path B.

Answer: 3

177. In which direction may the driver of a fixed-route bus proceeding in a designated lane travel in this situation?

1. Straight ahead only.
2. In all directions.

Answer: 1

178. A bus driver must not interfere with:

1. Only pedestrians crossing at a pedestrian crossing.
